DETAILED ACTION

1. The indicated allowability of claims 6-10 is withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference(s) to Gottlieb (5,920,621) and Lindeberg et al (6,094,479). Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 U.S.C. § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 6-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Andrew (of record) in view of Gottlieb (5,920,621) or Lindeberg et al (6,094,479). Andrew differs from the claim in that Andrew does not teach the use of SCP processor to route incoming calls based on agent status. However, such feature is well known in the art of telephony. For example, Gottlieb teaches a SCP processor 226 that routes incoming calls to appropriate operator/agent using operator/agent status (see col. 7, lines 36-63). In another prior art example, Lindeberg also teaches SCP processor 231 that routes incoming calls to appropriate operator/agent using operator/agent status (see figure 5; col. 11, lines 21-27). Gottlieb further teaches force management database (col. 10, lines 52), and Lindeberg teaches database 252 (figure 1). The use of SCP processor to route incoming calls to appropriate operator/agent using operator/agent status enhance call routing efficiency. Thus, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to apply Gottlieb's or Lindeberg's teaching of using a SCP processor to route incoming calls to appropriate operator/agent using operator/agent status in Andrew's system with the motivation being to enhance call routing efficiency.

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 6-10 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
